

Telesat Reports Results for Second Quarter and First Six Months of 2011

OTTAWA, CANADA, August 4, 2011 - Telesat Holdings Inc. (Telesat) today announced its financial results for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2011. All amounts are in Canadian dollars, and are reported under International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") unless otherwise noted.

For the three month period ended June 30, 2011, Telesat reported consolidated revenues of $200 million, a decrease of approximately 2% ($5 million) compared to the same period in 2010. When adjusted for foreign exchange rate changes over the period, revenues remained almost unchanged compared to the same period in 2010. Adjusted EBITDA¹ for the second quarter of 2011 was $155 million, a decrease of 1% ($1 million) compared to the second quarter of 2010 and an increase of 1% ($1.7 million) when adjusted for foreign exchange rate changes. The Adjusted EBITDA margin¹ for the second quarter was 77.5% compared to 76% in the 2010 period.

Telesat reported net income of $22 million in the second quarter compared to net loss of $63 million for the same period in 2010. The higher net income is mainly due to lower operating expenses of approximately $4 million, lower interest expense of approximately $10 million, and higher gain on foreign exchange of approximately $161 million offset by an increase in tax expense of approximately $6 million and an unfavorable change in the fair value of financial instruments of approximately $82 million.

For the six month period ended June 30, 2011, consolidated revenues were $403 million, a decrease of approximately 0.3% ($1.4 million) compared to the same period in 2010. When adjusted for foreign exchange rate changes, revenues increased by 2% ($8 million) compared to the same period of 2010. Adjusted EBITDA was $312 million, an increase of 3% ($9 million) over the same period of 2010 and an increase of 5% ($15 million) when adjusted for foreign exchange rate changes. The Adjusted EBITDA margin was 77% and net income was $137 million for the first six months of 2011, compared to 75% and $17 million, respectively, in the prior period.

"The second quarter was another solid one for Telesat, and I'm pleased with our growth in Adjusted EBITDA in the first half of the year and the continued expansion in our Adjusted EBITDA margin." commented Dan Goldberg, Telesat's President and CEO. "We successfully launched Telstar 14R in the quarter and, notwithstanding an anomaly in the deployment of one of its solar arrays, we currently expect the satellite will give us expansion capacity in the key Latin America and maritime markets to support our planned growth. At this time, we remained focused on the launch in a few months' time of the ViaSat-1 satellite, as Telesat owns the satellite's Canadian payload, and achieving our full year financial and operational objectives."

Business Highlights

- At June 30, 2011:
 - Telesat had contracted backlog for future services of approximately $5.4 billion.
 - Fleet utilization was 89% for Telesat's North American fleet and 79% for Telesat's international fleet.
- On April 11, 2011, Telesat acquired from Loral Space & Communications Inc. ("Loral") all of Loral's rights and obligations with respect to the Canadian payload on the ViaSat-1 satellite, and all related agreements. In connection with this acquisition, Telesat assumed from Loral a contract with Telesat's longstanding customer Xplornet (formerly known as Barrett Xplore), which has committed to use ViaSat-1's Canadian payload for 15 years to bring advanced, high capacity broadband services to rural Canadians. Telesat expects the ViaSat-1 satellite to be launched in approximately two months.
- Following the successful launch of the Telstar 14R/Estrela do Sul 2 satellite, the satellite's north solar array failed to fully deploy. The north solar array anomaly diminishes the amount of power available for the satellite's transponders and reduces the life expectancy of the satellite. However, it is expected at this time that the satellite will have an estimated commercial lifetime of 12 years or more and will be able to support all of the existing services to customers formerly provided by Telstar 14/Estrela do Sul (the satellite it replaces) and moreover, be capable of providing certain additional capacity for new customer requirements. Both the commercial life and the capacity that Telstar 14R/Estrela do Sul 2 will be able to support remain subject to further review.

Telesat has launch and in-orbit insurance policies that provide coverage to it for a total, constructive total or partial loss of Telstar 14R/Estrela do Sul 2. Telesat is currently assessing the extent of the loss that would be covered by the terms and condition of its insurance policies, and expects to obtain additional information concerning the satellite's operational capabilities and life expectancy once the satellite has been in service for a longer period of time. Telesat expects to make an insurance claim in connection with the Telstar 14R/Estrela do Sul 2 anomaly later this year.

• In 2010, Telesat initiated a process to explore an initial public offering of Telesat's shares or other strategic alternatives that may arise. Among other initiatives and following expressions of interest from third parties, potential purchasers were invited to participate in a process to explore a potential acquisition of all or a portion of our shareholders' interests in Telesat. The process resulted in several acquisition offers; however, none of these offers was accepted and, as a result, discussions with the potential purchasers were terminated. Telesat is continuing to explore additional alternatives, including potential recapitalization transactions. There can be no assurance that any such alternative or transaction will occur.

Telesat's quarterly report on Form 6-K for the six months ended June 30, 2011 has been filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and may be accessed on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

End Notes

The common definition of EBITDA is "Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization." In evaluating financial performance, Telesat uses revenues and deducts certain operating expenses (including making adjustments to operating expenses for share-based compensation expense and unusual and non-recurring items, including restructuring related expenses) to obtain operating loss/income before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("Adjusted EBITDA") and Adjusted EBITDA margin (defined as the ratio of Adjusted EBITDA to revenues) as measures of Telesat's operating performance.

Adjusted EBITDA allows Telesat and investors to compare Telesat's operating results with that of competitors exclusive of depreciation and amortization, interest and investment income, interest expense, taxes and certain other expenses. Financial results of competitors in the satellite services industry have significant variations that can result from timing of capital expenditures, the amount of intangible assets recorded, the differences in assets' lives, the timing and amount of investments, the effects of other income (expense), and unusual and non-recurring items. The use of Adjusted EBITDA assists Telesat and investors to compare operating results exclusive of these items. Competitors in the satellite services industry have significantly different capital structures. Telesat believes the use of Adjusted EBITDA improves comparability of performance by excluding interest expense.

Telesat believes the use of Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin along with IFRS financial measures enhances the understanding of Telesat's operating results and is useful to Telesat and investors in comparing performance with competitors, estimating enterprise value and making investment decisions. Adjusted EBITDA as used here may not be the same as similarly titled measures reported by competitors. Adjusted EBITDA should be used in conjunction with IFRS financial measures and is not presented as a substitute for cash flows from operations as a measure of Telesat's liquidity or as a substitute for net income as an indicator of Telesat's operating performance.
